Spread Information

The spread, which varies by instrument, is the difference between the bid (sell) and ask (buy) prices, representing the cost of initiating a position. Pip values are used to measure the spread. By using your account to access the Trading Platform, you will find the pip values of all the instruments provided by the Company.

Swap Fees

A swap is the interest added or deducted from the value of your position when it is held open overnight. The operation occurs at 00:00 (GMT+2) and the resulting amount is automatically converted into your Balance Currency.

Swap rates are calculated on every weekday when positions roll over, whereas on Wednesdays the swap rates are calculated and charged three times in advance to capture the weekend swaps charged to your account.

By using your account to access the Trading Platform, you will find the value of each swap rate applied to the instruments provided by the Company.

Please be aware that daylight save time (DST) and other processing and exchange rate fees might be applicable.

Deposit Fees

Although there are no deposit fees charged by the Company, the payment service provider may apply extra processing fees and adjust currency exchange rates based on your preferred deposit method.
